

PARTNERS FOR HEALTH

(HEALTH & BELIEF 2015)

Grants to support social action projects tackling poverty and health inequalities

GRANT DETAILS:

- Applications can be for projects up to £10,000 (The average award in 2014 was £6,250)
- To fund projects for one year to begin in 2015

WHO CAN APPLY?

- Charities, faith-groups, voluntary and community organisations
- based in London
- with annual income of less than £200,000

FOR A PROJECT THAT CAN DEMONSTRATE:

- it is tackling the effects of poverty and reducing health inequalities
- a new approach or a thoughtful development in response to need
- working with an expert health agency/provider
- support for people with mental and physical health needs, in particular, the areas of mental health and addiction

SUCCESSFUL PROJECTS WILL BE:

- Clear about the purpose of the project and the benefit of activities proposed
- Involving partners and the target group
- Aware of similar projects; what worked and good practice
- Working with an expert partner or resource
- Open about the outcomes they hope to achieve

Case Studies

Islington Faiths Forum to develop a support network and training for faith groups dealing with poverty and mental health issues. Organised a Best Practice Conference at Islington Town Hall, establishing a new mental health forum and increased partnership working across forum members.

Muslim Women's Sport Foundation ran a fitness scheme for GP referrals for Muslim and BME women in partnership with Redbridge Public Health; 80 women took part and events focused on both exercise and health education with many as a result joining the MWSF basketball club.

Case Study

Holy Trinity Tottenham for its 'Thinking Space' weekly session where mums share their joys and concerns and receive support from each other. 'The funding enabled HTT to offer employable skills, as the mums had requested, such as food preparation and hygiene training, as well as the opportunity to take part in training to facilitate 'Thinking Spaces' in Tottenham for mothers and others who could benefit. The sessions proved to be a valuable meeting place for members of the church to encounter those outside the congregation and to build relationships within the local community. Mums have said;

"Now we make sure that there's lots of leaflets. And anywhere that we go... we collect leaflets for each other, for things that we think might be useful to other mums" "...so you tell your experience to say to someone else, 'You're not lost, because I was there and look at me now,'... and it gives them hope, it gives someone else hope"
